JUDGMENT:(per The Hon'ble Sri Justice B.Prakash Rao)

Heard both sides, and at their request, the main writ appeal itself is taken up for disposal.

This appeal is filed by the appellant aggrieved against the orders passed finally in an interlocutory application filed, pending the writ petition. Initially, the learned Single Judge granted interim order on 07-06-2005 and on an application filed seeking to vacate the same, it was made absolute with a direction to extend the benefit in regard to the revised pay scale.

During the course of arguments, learned counsel for the respondents submitted that the order under appeal has already been implemented by proceedings dated 11-07-1996. Taking note thereof, we do not find any reason to interfere with the same.

The writ appeal is accordingly dismissed. However, it is needless to mention that any such implementation is subject to final orders passed in the writ petition. No costs.
